you're invited

Join the Library Foundation's Young Literati as a sponsor of the 11th Annual Toast and support the life-changing work of the Los Angeles Public Library.

Each year, Young Literati brings together the creative and civic leaders of our city to celebrate the Library in an evening of literature, comedy, and music. Past Toasts have featured performers Andrew Bird, Mark Duplass, Chelsea Handler, Kumail Nanjiani, Sarah Silverman, Constance Wu, and many others.

All sponsorships are fully customizable, and we are eager to work together to build a package that best fits your goals. Please see the following pages for more details on the event and our sponsorship opportunities.

about young literati & the library foundation

The Library Foundation's Young Literati is a membership group for engaged Angelenos in their 20s, 30s, and 40s who have a shared interest in the literary life of our city. Members enjoy exclusive access to creative and civic leaders, discounts on ticketed Foundation programs, and invitations to the best events on the calendar — all while supporting the vital work of the Library.

The Library Foundation of Los Angeles (LFLA) provides essential financial support to the Los Angeles Public Library system, resulting in thousands of free programs, resources, and services offered to millions of Angelenos at the Central Library and 72 neighborhood branch libraries across the city.

service snapshot

The Library is the cultural, creative, and educational hub of our community, and we are proud to support the thousands of free programs, events, and services that enrich the lives of all Angelenos across the city.

In the past year:

- The 73 library branches were visited 13.5 million times.
- 15,700 free lunches were served to children in the summer.
- 49,525 patrons received computer assistance and training.
